Part 2: Reading

Passage 1: Read the passage below and answer the next 5 questions. Choose the correct option A, B, C, or D to answer each given question.

Housing is an important part of life, giving people a place to live and stay safe. However, there are many problems with housing in different places. In cities, many people want to live there, which causes a shortage of homes and makes prices go up. Because of this, some people have to live in small apartments or even in places that don't have good water or electricity.

In the countryside or suburbs, there is more space, and people can live in bigger homes with gardens. But these areas may not have easy access to things like buses, shops, or schools. Over time, more people are thinking about building homes that are better for the environment. These eco-friendly homes use materials that don't harm nature and can save money on bills because they use less energy.

Governments and groups are working to make sure everyone has a good place to live. They are building affordable homes, giving help to people who can't pay for housing, and planning better cities. But it is still hard to fix all the problems because land is limited and building homes can be expensive.

What can be the best title for this passage?

- A. Problems and Solutions in Housing
- B. The Cost of Living in the City
- C. Why People Like Suburban Homes
- D. How to Build Better Homes

ANSWER: A

According to the passage, what is a common problem in city housing?

- A. Not enough homes and high prices
- B. Too many parks and gardens
- C. Lack of transportation
- D. Shortage of eco-friendly homes

ANSWER: A

What is the main idea of the second paragraph?

- A. Sustainable homes help the environment and save money.
- B. Suburban homes are better than homes in the city in many ways.
- C. People prefer to live in cities than the countryside.
- D. Homes in the city are better than in the suburbs.

ANSWER: A

What is one feature of eco-friendly homes?

- A. They use materials that are good for the environment.
- B. They are built in natural places.
- C. They have large gardens and swimming pools.
- D. They use expensive materials and cost more to build.

ANSWER: A

What is one challenge in providing better housing for everyone?

- A. Building homes is expensive.
- B. People don't want bigger houses.
- C. There is not enough interest in city planning.
- D. There is too much land available.

ANSWER: A

Passage 2: Read the passage below and answer the next 5 questions. Choose the correct option A, B, C, or D to answer each given question.

Shopping has changed a lot in the past few years. In the past, people would go to stores to buy things like clothes, food, and household items. But now, many people shop online, where they can buy almost anything from the comfort of their own homes. Online shopping is popular because it's easy to compare prices, and you can find more options than you would in a local store. Many websites even offer free delivery, which makes shopping from home more attractive.

However, shopping in physical stores still has some benefits. People can touch the items and try them on before deciding to buy. In stores, there are also salespeople who can help answer questions, and many people enjoy the experience of walking around, browsing different products, and trying out new things. Shopping in stores can also be a social activity. Some people like to go shopping with friends or family, making it an enjoyable way to spend time together.

Another important trend is the rise of eco-friendly shopping. More and more people are becoming aware of the environmental impact of their purchases. They are looking for ways to reduce waste, such as buying products that come with less packaging or choosing items made from recycled materials. Some shoppers also prefer to buy from local shops to support small businesses and reduce their carbon footprint.

Despite these positive changes, there are still challenges in the world of shopping. For example, the rise of online shopping has led to the closure of many physical stores, especially small businesses. This has made some areas feel less lively, as empty stores are replaced with warehouses or delivery centers. Shopping also contributes to environmental problems, as the production and delivery of goods can create pollution.

What can be the best title for this passage?

- A. How Shopping Has Changed Over Time
- B. The Benefits of Online Shopping
- C. The Best Way to Shop for Clothes
- D. The Future of Shopping in Cities

ANSWER: A

What is one advantage of shopping in physical stores?

- A. You can try on clothes and ask salespeople for help.
- B. It's cheaper than shopping online.
- C. There are more discounts in stores.
- D. There is more variety of products online.

ANSWER: A

What is the main idea of the third paragraph?

- A. People are becoming more eco-conscious when shopping.
- B. More people are shopping online than ever before.
- C. Online shopping is better for the environment.
- D. Local businesses are hurting due to online shopping.

ANSWER: A

How has online shopping affected physical stores?

- A. Many physical stores have closed down.
- B. It has made physical stores more popular than before.
- C. It has led to better service in stores.
- D. It has created more job opportunities in stores.

ANSWER: A

What is one environmental concern related to shopping?

- A. The production and delivery of goods can cause pollution.
 - B. More people are choosing to buy products from stores due to its convenience.
 - C. Shopping at local stores uses more natural resources.
 - D. Buying eco-friendly products increases waste.
- ANSWER: A
